HARDING WILL ACT ONLY IN CASE OF CRISIS

TELLS HIS ADVISORS HE WILL USE POWER ONLY IN NECESSITY

Seems to Still Be Confident That a Way
Will be Found to Protect the General Public—Borah Fact Finding Bill for the Coal
Industry Meets With Violent Opposition

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Altho congress is to be asked to authorize government operation of railroads and all properties President Harding has told his advisers that he will exercise the authority thus granted only in case of an eventual industrial crisis which he does not now foresee.

Despite the apparent deadlock in both the rail and anthracite strikes, the president is described as still confident a way will be found to protect the interests of the general public without resort to actual government direction of the industries.

Meantime Mr. Harding is said to consider it extremely advisable that if congress is to recess it first must clearly define his powers to act and legislation looking to that end being prepared for submission at the capitol early next week.

This policy of preparedness was received with manifestations of approval among many majority leaders in congress but was followed by evidence of reluctance among others to go further than is provided in the industrial investigation and control legislation already pending in both houses.

PREMIER POINCARE REJECTS ELEVENTH OF OUR GUARANTEES

Berlin Mission Differs on Financial Status of Germany

(By The Associated Press)
PARIS, Aug. 26.—Premier Poincare has rejected the eleventh of the guarantees offered by the German government and independent measures by France against any failure of the reparations commission to maintain in Berlin the status of a compromise acceptable to France.

In well informed French circles it is considered reasonably certain that the reparations commission will grant a moratorium for the rest of the year with the final German proposals as an additional guarantee. The German proposals handed to the reparations commission just before it left for Paris provided for a contract between the German government and the biggest industrialists including Hugo Stinnes, for delivery during the period of a moratorium of products of the Ruhr mines and wood from the state forests. German industry would guarantee faithful delivery and penalties would be enforced against the industrialists in the event the schedule was not lived up to. Details was to be submitted by Germany next week but the French premier rejected the plan. The premier's opposition said to be due to the fact that he believes the scheme would place the industrialists more important than the government and since a business party in Germany is a position to dictate to the government refusal to carry out the contract would leave the German government powerless to act and France would be as bad off before.

British optimism which continued even up to this afternoon, given way tonight to frank gloom over the situation after M. Poincare refused to accept the last German proposals. The British think these proposals fairly meet M. Poincare's demand for German mines and forests by actually giving France the products of these natural resources without handing the district over to political control. The district possession of France, it is contended by the British would only lead to chaos to the already critical situation.

Sir John Bradbury, just before a meeting of the reparations commission told The Associated Press he was convinced that Germany was really trying to meet a French view, and he urged that the French government meet Germany half way. He informed the commission that the German

ANOTHER ARREST IN $1,000,000 CONFIDENCE RING

Harry D. White Taken Into Custody in Denver Saturday

(By The Associated Press)
DENVER, Colo., Aug. 26.—Harry D. White said to be wanted by federal postoffice inspector H. E. Graham on a charge of swindling S. T.uch, of Plainfield, N. J., of $60,000 at Miami, Fla., on March 17, 1921, was arrested late today by agents of the Denver district attorney's office who have been conducting raids on an alleged million dollar "confidence ring."

Thirty nine alleged members of the "ring" are lodged in jail tonight. Only two of the original 33 arrested and held by District Attorney Vance on a blanket charge of conspiracy to operate a confidence game have been able to raise the $25,000 set by the court as the amount of each individual bond.

J. Homer French, alleged leader of the ring, who also is wanted under an indictment in Miami, Fla., also was added to the lists of arrests today when he was brought to Denver from Estes Park, Colo., where he was taken into custody last night. French is being held in jail.

Twenty nine of the men arrested Thursday night pleaded Not Guilty to the charge entered against them when they were arraigned in district court this afternoon. Authorities have been unable to determine the correct names of the other four they explained and for this reason their arraignments have been delayed.

District Attorney Vance today made public additional details of the coup which resulted Thursday night in the wholesale arrests.

J. Frank Norfleet, of Hale Center, Texas, who sprang into fame when he ran down the notorious Furey gang, was the man around whom all the plans of the local officials revolved.

Posed as Wealthy Sucker
Norfleet, according to the district attorneys story came to Denver on August 12, on the request of local authorities and posed as a wealthy "sucker" at a fashionable Denver hotel.

He did not have to wait long before he was approached by two alleged "confidence men" who unfolded to him a plan whereby he was to win large sums of money by speculating in oil stocks. To these men he gave the name of Frank Mulligan.

Norfleet pretended to fall for the bait and accompanied his new acquaintances to a room in a downtown office building.

This office was rigged up with all the paraphernalia of a regular broker's office and while Norfleet was in the room the proverbial come on man "entered and won" $10,000, on the same oil stock which Norfleet had been urged to play.

Norfleet was then allowed to play the market on a "credit basis." He was successful, but was told he could not receive his winnings until he put up a certain amount of cash to show his good faith.

Norfleet's greatest difficulty was experienced at this time when it was necessary to "stall" the alleged confidence men while district attorney's office perfected plans for the contemplated raid. Mr. Vance said. In order to take any action until he felt better. A fake doctor was brought into play to make the ruse more realistic and as a result Norfleet was able to hold up proceedings until the district attorney was ready to make his arrests.

CLAIM INSPECTORS
CONDEMNED EQUIPMENT
(By The Associated Press)
WABASH, Ind., Aug. 26.—Government inspectors of railroad equipment arrived here late yesterday and according to union men, about the big four round house, ordered two freight engines into the shops until repairs could be made. The shops denied that a student of the shops denied that any recommendations had been made regarding the equipment. The engines are coming to those working about the shops, were immediately repaired and trains moved. A freight engine also was ordered removed from passenger service. A passenger engine was placed in service and the train continued its journey.

Alleged Radicals Taken In Raid

(By The Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Eleven alleged radicals attending the convention of the Trades Union Educational League were taken into custody by federal agents and the police in a raid on the hall in which sessions were being held tonight.

Among those seized were two men who were said to be wanted by the Berrien county, Michigan, authorities in connection with a convention of alleged radicals there. The nine others will be held for deportation as undesirable.

The federal agents and the police entered the hall quietly and took seats in the back of the hall. When William Z. Foster, head of the league and chairman of the meetings announced an adjournment for the day, one of the policemen announced that he and his aides were there to take into custody a number of

DUKE AND DUCHESS HAVE MUCH LUGGAGE AND PEKINESE PUP

Expected to Arrive in San Francisco Some Time
Today

(By The Associated Press)
SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Aug. 26.—When the Duke and Duchess of York and their entourage, which it has been reported includes 37 pieces of luggage, numerous servants and a Pekinese pup, arrive from the northwest, which probably will be tomorrow they will be accommodated without any embarrassment to anybody. It was announced today by the management of an exclusive hotel where they have made reservations.

For a time it appeared that it would require some diplomacy to make satisfactory arrangements with the French nobleman and his wife, who formerly was Miss Anna Gould of New York and Fred Scooby, director of the United States mint, who is at the hotel in what it was announced today is a presidential suite and not the presidential suite.

The management did not want to ask Scooby to remove but it wanted to take care of the Duke and Duchess as well.

So it developed that both Mr. Scooby and the nobleman and his party will be "fixed."

MEDILL DESIGNATED AS ILLINOIS COAL CONSIGNEE SATURDAY

Announcement is Made by Federal Distribution Organization

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Robert M. Medill, Illinois fuel administrator has been designated Illinois Coal Consignee by the federal distribution organization at Washington it was announced at Mr. Medill's office today. He is in Springfield.

The effect of the appointment it was understood in his office would be to bring all coal shipments under the direct touch of the state distributor.

Applications for priorities for coal continue to come to the distributors' office in great number it was said but many are found faulty thru failure to guarantee payment on delivery.

BATTLESHIP FRANCE GOES DOWN SATURDAY

L'ORIENT, France, Aug. 26.—The Battleship France 23,000 tons, one of the prides of the French navy, struck a rock off Quiberon Bay in the darkness of early morning today and went to the bottom in 75 feet of water.

alleged fugitives from justice wanted by the Michigan authorities and others wanted for deportation.

The hundred or more delegates sat quietly in their seats while the government agents went from row to row picking those they wanted. The other delegates were allowed to go. A crowd which gathered during the proceedings jeered the delegates as they left the building. Those seized were:

Jack Schullman, Winnipeg, Canada; John Oravainen, Astoria, Ore.; Martin VanHeek, Grand Rapids, Mich.; Earl Broder, Philip Allenberg, Jacob Feldmark, J. Hutstein, Anton Greenberg, Jeremiah Hadrava, Felix Krasovki, A. Overgaard, all of Chicago.

Broder is said to be a lieutenant of Foster and is editor of the Labor Herald, organ of the league.

TROOPS CAPTURE FRANKLIN CLUB IN HAVRE, FRANCE

Had Been Taken Possession of By One Thousand
Rioting Strikers

(By The Associated Press)
HAVRE, Aug. 26.—The Franklin Club in which a thousand and rioting strikers had taken refuge was captured by the troops late tonight.

The total casualties for the day number about three killed and about 50 wounded.

One regiment of infantry stationed at Havre threatened to take part in the fighting against the strikers. A number of soldiers have been placed under arrest by the military authorities.

The strikers are busy erecting barricades where they will make a stand tomorrow. Several hundred Americans are crowded in the hotels awaiting the sailing of the French liner Savole, the departure of which, tentatively fixed for tomorrow is uncertain due to the complete tieup of the port thru the general strike which has gripped practically all these industries here for many days.

MYSTERY SURROUNDS DEATH OF WOMAN IN MINEOLA HOSPITAL

Mrs. Robert C. Wainwright of Springfield Dies
Saturday

(By The Associated Press)
MINEOLA, N. Y., Aug. 26.—An inquest has been ordered into the death of Mrs. Robert C. Wainwright, of Springfield, Ill., who died in Nassau hospital today. Dr. G. A. Fensterer, who attended her as a visiting physician, it was said, has failed to establish the exact cause of death but it is believed the woman died from the effects of poison.

When she was taken to the hospital on Wednesday, Mrs. Wainwright is said to have told attendants she had swallowed some pills given her by her husband. She later changed this statement, saying the pills were given her by "a man" whom she did not identify.

Mrs. Wainwright's husband is a civil engineer and since his departure for South America in April, she had been living here with her mother.

FORMER SOLICITOR GENERAL IS DEAD

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Maurice D. O'Connell, 82, solicitor general of the treasury department during the Roosevelt and Taft administrations died tonight at a hospital where he had been confined since April as a result of a street car accident. He was a native of Fort Dodge, Iowa.

PAYS FOR BABY CRADLE
AFTER FORTY-SIX YEARS.
Nokomis, Ill., Aug. 26.—A baby cradle purchased for $5 on credit 46 years ago by John S. Eller, and in which all his babies, now grown to maturity, were lulled to sleep by Mrs. Eller, was paid for this week. Eller bought the cradle from George Culp, furniture dealer, in 1876. A few days ago Eller returned to Nokomis and remembered the $5 debt. He learned that Culp was dead and that his only heir was a grandson, Edward Shaper, a druggist, so he paid the $5 to Shaper.

ONE PASSENGER TRAIN RUN OUT OF ROODHOUSE

Hummer Manned by Officials Leaves 14
Hours Late

ROODHOUSE, Ill., Aug. 26.—Manned by officials of the locomotive department, one Chicago & Alton train succeeded in getting out of Roodhouse tonight, carrying a large number of passengers for points north who had been marooned here, who were unwillingly detained when train crews today refused to take their trains out following explosions in the vicinity of the roudhouse Friday morning.

The train which departed was the "Hummer" from Kansas City to Chicago. It was due at Roodhouse at 1:05 o'clock this morning but did not arrive until 2:30 this afternoon. It was then held up here until 7:15 tonight while officials hunted vainly for firemen and engineers.

At that time the officials themselves entered the engine cab and teamed up the locomotive for the run to Bloomington, where the regular crew was to take the train on to Chicago.

There were 200 marooned passengers here this afternoon, brought in by three trains which were unable to proceed.

The hotels filled up rapidly, and the sudden rush of business quickly depleted hotel larders.

Poultry Stranded in Yards

The situation was gradually relieved however, many of the travelers secured automobiles to take them to nearby towns, some going as far as St. Louis by taxicab. Two cars of live poultry and a number of cars of meat have been on the side tracks for two days. The poultry is being cared for, but it is feared the meat will be spoiled as the cars have not been iced since coming here.

Negotiations to send the firemen and engineers back to their jobs were opened this morning but thus far have not been successful. Striking trainmen and shopmen held several meetings today, and the men were kept closely in touch with developments.

The men maintained that conditions are such as to render operations of engines a danger.

The American Express company was making plans to transfer the great amount of express that had accumulated to the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road.

Passengers Taxi Out of Town

St. Louis, Mo., Aug. 26.—St. Louis passengers stranded at Roodhouse, Ill., owing to the strike of trainmen of the Chicago and Alton railroad arrived here tonight on a train of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy road. Eight women and children, who were among the marooned passengers were cared for overnight by the Chicago and Alton's station agent at the request of Mayor Alexander, a Chicago and Alton conductor, the passengers reported on their arrival here.

The principal traffic out of Roodhouse is freight train service which is tied up today. Only local passenger trains make connections there.

PRESIDENT AND PARTY ON MAYFLOWER

(By The Associated Press)
WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—President and Mrs. Harding, accompanied by a party of friends left on the presidential yacht Mayflower today for a 24 hours cruise in Chesapeake Bay. It is the second time this season the president has taken the opportunity to make such a week-end trip.

Accompanying the President and Mrs. Harding were the president's sister, Miss Abigail Harding; Secretaries Hoover and Fall and Attorney General Clegg; Senators Cummins of Iowa and Kellogg of Minnesota and others.

SEES MENACE TO U. S.
IN TYPHUS SITUATION.

New York, Aug. 26.—The rapid spread of typhus in Poland constitutes a menace to the whole world said Health Commissioner Royal S. Copeland on his return today from Europe, where he has been studying health conditions. "I shudder to think of the possibilities, if the disease—nationally unknown here—should creep into this city thru a few infected immigrants. It would kill a million persons in a month."

He announced his intention of raising funds to provide for a temporary hospital for typhus patients in Poland.

INDUSTRY WILL HAVE TO SURRENDER SOON IS OPINION OF FORD

Manufacturer Announces the Closing of All
His Plants September 16th Unless the Situation Changes in the Coal and Rail Strike —Will Throw 105,000 Men Out of Work

(By The Associated Press)
DETROIT, Mich., Aug. 26.—Industry the country over, must "throw up its hands in surrender," within a few weeks, if the rail and coal strikes continue, Henry Ford declared today in announcing the decision of the Ford Motor company to close its plants here and in many other cities on September 16, because of the fuel situation.

Mr. Ford held financial interests responsible for the industrial tieup declaring the "money barons" were manipulating the labor unions and that public officials, state and national were impotent in the crisis.

"The strikes would end," he continued, "when the majority of the people are cold and hungry enough to resort to drastic action."

Continuance of these disturbances to the economic life of the nation is due simply to the greed and avarice of Wall street, Mr. Ford asserted, adding that these interests "dominated the railroads, coal mines and public utilities of the country."

The deadlock in strike negotiations, indicated, he declared the existence of "a plot to unload the demoralized and run down railroads on to the government at their own price and to mulct the people thru excessive coal prices." Mr. Ford estimated that 105,000 employees of the Ford Motor company will be without jobs as well as several hundred thousand workers employed in industries furnishing materials for the Ford plants. The announcement was the most severe blow that industrial Detroit has sustained since the industrial depression of two years ago.

It means according to Mr. Ford that 75,000 men employed in the Highland Park, River Rouge and Dearborn plants of the company here will be without work. Thirty thousand others now working in assembling plants thruout the country will be thrown out of employment. How long the shutdown will remain in force will depend on the coal supply of the future the manufacturer declared.

Mr. Ford declared he "had not the remotest idea," when the plant would be opened. It was announced that the normal daily consumption of coal in the Ford industries was 3800 ton and altho declining to state the amount on hand at this time, officials said it would be impossible to do more than keep the furnaces and ovens warm.

Only a comparatively small number of the employees of the Ford plants will be retained in service during the shutdown, it was announced.

"We have to close down at a time when we are doing a greater business than ever before in our history," Mr. Ford's statement said.

Effect of the Ford shutdown will be felt on industry in every part of the country according to officials of the company. The number of workers employed by firms supplying the Ford company with various parts and raw materials including iron and steel, was variously estimated at from "several hundred thousand to three millions."

The Ford plants, in the aggregate, constitute Michigan's greatest industry from the standpoint of employment and as such are among the largest in the country. Business men and manufacturers here were unanimous that the closing of these plants might have far reaching effects on the national economic situation.

MOVE CHURCH

Roanoke, Ill., Aug. 26.—Members of Trinity Lutheran church didn't want to go five miles in the country to services, so they moved their church edifice closer to home. Most of the congregation has moved into town in the last few years but they had maintained their church five miles northeast of here. A few days ago the building, erected 35 years ago, was moved into town on wheels and set on a new foundation. A new pastor, Rev. Mr. Shut, has been secured.

CO-OPERATION NEEDED TO STOP HESSIAN FLY.

Joliet, Ill., Aug. 26.—One hundred per cent co-operation on the part of the farmers of Will county is necessary if the Hessian fly menace is to be controlled in the county according to the Will County Farm Bureau. The fly must be checked if the wheat growing is to be continued, said a publication of the bureau. Preventative measures taken last year saved the winter wheat crop, it said.

REPRODUCTION OF LINCOLN-DOUGLAS DEBATE IS SHOWN

Characters in Historic Debate of 1858 Appear on Stage

(By The Associated Press)
FREEDPORT, Ill., Aug. 26.—Lincoln and Douglas lived again in Freedport tonight.

On a high stage erected near the scene of their famous debate of 1858, characters in the historic drama of 64 years appeared.

Besides Lincoln who was impersonated by the Rev. John R. Pickells, Episcopal rector and Douglas, impersonated by Stephen A. Douglas of Freedport, who claims kinship to the "little giant" other characters impersonated were Colonel Thomas J. Turner, Republican moderator of the debate of 1858, Colonel James Mitchell, Democratic moderator and Robert R. Hitt, afterward member of congress who took a stenographic report of the Lincoln-Douglas debate.

Judge Oscar E. Heard appeared as Colonel Turner and his son, O. E. Heard, Jr., as Hitt, while Robert R. Mitchell impersonated Colonel Mitchell, his grandfather. On the stage with them were many pioneers who heard Lincoln and Douglas debate.

The pageant was preceded by a parade in which were girls representing the 32 states of the union in 1858 and characters representing Kansas and Nebraska, states in which turned over slavery raged in days of Lincoln and Douglas, together with mounted heralds, a mounted escort, pages and other attendants. After these came a long line of men, women and children, wearing costumes in vogue in 1858, many having been preserved by ancestors of those who heard the original debate.

Ox carts and other ancient vehicles creaked along thoroughfares to the boulder marking the site of the debate. The procession passed down Stephenson street past the historic Brewster house, hostelry at which Lincoln and Douglas were guests 64 years ago and where Senator Pat Harrison of Mississippi and Karl C. Schuyler of Denver, who participated in today's debate were being entertained. Schuyler occupied the room Lincoln used and Harrison the one in which Douglas had his headquarters.

Fifty Thousand Hear Debate
A crowd estimated at 50,000 heard the debate at Taylor Park between Senator Harrison and Mr. Schuyler, who discussed the issues of the day while both eulogized the two great political leaders, they also devoted a large portion of their speeches to discussion of present day problems.

Schuyler, who spoke first, suggested the prohibition of strikes and lockout by law and if necessary by constitutional amendment.

A THOUGHT

Who so walketh uprightly shall be saved; but he that is perverse in his ways shall fall at once.—Proverbs 28:18.

Who judgeth well, well God then send;
Who judgeth evil, God them amend.—Sir Thomas Wyatt.

Justice O. N. Carter has been made chairman of the committee to have charge of the campaign in the state, urging the adoption of a new constitution. No one in the state is better qualified for this work and Justice Carter had much to do with the movement which made possible the calling of the constitutional convention. There certainly is need for familiarizing the people with the new constitution proposals if there is any hope for the adoption of the constitution at the coming special election.

If the coal operators of Illinois add materially to the price of coal that prevailed before the shut down it will be in the face of the strongest kind of public sentiment. Evidently every possible influence will be brought to bear upon the operators to have them see that the public will pay higher prices for coal only after vigorous protest.

In Quincy a foundation has been established for boys' work. Persons who wish to contribute toward this good cause add their money to the foundation fund, which they know will be wisely administered. There is a great deal of interest in Quincy in this movement and so the prospect brightens for even better citizenship there in coming years.

The birthday of Lafayette is not far distant and will be observed in many American cities Sept. 6. That date is also the anniversary of the battle of the Marne, fought in 1914. The date is thus doubly significant in history and merits whatever observance can be planned.

BERTON BRALEY'S DAILY POEM

The Old Tar

By Berton Braley

I GUESS this here disarmament is gonna make for peace
I reckon, too, it's proper that the navies should decrease,
We want to keep on friendly terms with Englishman an' Jap,
But gosh, I hate to see my ship converted into scrap.
For she was thirty thousand tons of forged an' hardened steel,
A splendid bulldog battleship from fightin' top to keel,
Five hundred jackies underdecks, a thousand at the rail,
By God, she gave a man a thrill whenever she would sail.

Her turbines drove her plowin' through the everlastin' seas,
She bucked the toughest tempests like she bucked the gentlest breeze,
An' when she moved in battle line, she made yer pulses beat,
A big grey fightin' beauty of a big, gray fightin' fleet,
That made yuh feel the power of these here United States,
But now the ex-acetylene is eatin' through her plates,
An' she'll be used for auto frames and buildin' city flats,
An' tools for makin' women's shoes an' shapin' derby hats!

YES, she'll be turned to honest use, of that there ain't no doubt,
An' I'm an old saltwater fool to fuss an' fret about
The finish of a battleship that's bein' turned to junk,
But just the same I'd rather see her taken out and sunk,
Sunk deep beneath the waves she rode, so splendid an' so fine,
When she was part of Uncle Sam's tremejus battle line;
I spose it's wrong an' wasteful, but I rather see her be Sent down with colors flyin' in the heav'n, surgin' sea!

born in America. That is, striking an average.
As nearly as can be accurately figured, about 2,400,000 babies will be born this year in our country.

The births exceed deaths by about 1,000,000 a year.
Deaths are necessary to make room for the newcomers.
These figures seem big. But to get the total of deaths and births for the whole world, you have to multiply the American figures by at least 20.
A pretty big organization is humanity, 28,000,000 dying and 48,000,000 born each year.
One who can grasp such figures is not apt to become conceited about his individual "importance."

And in the long run, after the desert sands have covered up civilizations as they decline and vanish one after the other, the whole man's existence can be summed up in the gigantic statistics of human deaths. All roads lead to it, no detour.

FUNERALS

Blesse
Funeral services for John William Blesse, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Blesse, of 920 Ahland avenue, were held yesterday afternoon at the Church of Our Savior, Rev. Father D'Donnabue was the officiating priest. Interment was in Calvary cemetery.

Those in charge of the many floral tributes were: the Misses Agnes and Rose Blesse, and the Misses Louise and Winifred Spalding.

HOUSEHOLD SCIENCE CLUB MET AT CHAPIN

Interesting Subjects Presented For Discussion—Club Met With Mrs. Taylor.

Chapin, Aug. 26.—Mrs. Benjamin J. Taylor entertained the members of the Chapin Household Science club at her home Wednesday afternoon. Music was furnished by the victrola. In response to roll call, each one gave some "idea on Money Making." Several gave their individual ways of earning little bits of change. The study for the afternoon was "The Moth," by Mrs. Monte Funk. Her paper contained many interest facts, and was followed by a general discussion by the club members. Mrs. Howard Tucker, as leader of the Table Talk, presented the "Spirit of Co-operation."

In the discussion that followed the fact was clearly brought forth, that to accomplish the very best results there must be, that harmony and willingness in each one to speak of the success our club had been, since its organization, eight years ago, due to the fact that each club member had co-operated in order that we may have this social activity in our community.

At the close of the program the hostess served dainty refreshments in keeping with the warm afternoon. The next club date will be held with Mrs. Harry Stewart.

DEATHS

Moore.
Fred M. Moore, former resident of Chapin but later a resident of Springfield, died at his home, 100 North Pine street, Springfield, at 4:30 o'clock Saturday morning. Mr. Moore will be remembered by many people of Chapin and vicinity as he was a long time citizen of that community. The deceased is survived by his wife and two sons, J. Earl, of Minneapolis, Minn., and Herbert, of Davenport, Iowa. Several brothers and sisters also survive.

The funeral will be held from the home in Springfield Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock and burial will be in Oak Ridge cemetery.

Sam Coultas of this city has returned from a visit with Mrs. Minnie Coultas of Fox Lake, Wis.

PROGRAM OF FAIR GIVEN OUT SATURDAY

Four Days Will be Filled With Entertainment and Education—Arrangement and Raising of Tents Nearly Completed.

The program of the four days of the Morgan county fair was announced yesterday by Secretary Welch as follows:

Tuesday—
9 a. m.—Opening of fair.
9:30—Concert by Woodson band.

10:00—Showing of beef cattle, draft horses, Poland China hogs, and light harness horses.
1:30 p. m.—Dive for life, by J. J. Chandler.
2:00 p. m.—Horse races.
3:00 p. m.—Balloon ascension and triple parachute drop.
7:00—Platform dance.

Wednesday
9:00 a. m.—Band concert.
9:15—Showing of mules, Dur-o-Jersey hogs, and light harness horses.

Afternoon program will be the same as Tuesday.

8 p. m.—Horse show.

Thursday
9 a. m.—Band concert.

9:15 a. m.—Showing of Spotted Poland; Berkshire, Hampshire, and Chester White Hogs. Showing of Ponies and saddle horses.

The afternoon program will be the same as Wednesday's.

7 p. m.—Platform dance.
8:00 p. m.—Fashion show and merchant pageant.

Friday
9 a. m.—Concert by band.
9:15 a. m.—Showing of Pig Club and finishing of all classes not yet exhibited.

Fred Wharton was appointed yesterday by the board of directors of the fair as chairman of a committee to secure entries enough to make a showing of fancy driving and riding horses practical. This show if given will be held in front of the grandstand and the band will furnish music throughout. A ribbon or other suitable prizes will be given in this event.

Almost all large tents are up and most of the small ones, excepting a shipment hung up in Talula by the C. and A. strike. A truck will go to Talula today to bring this shipment to the city.

The Oliver amusement company of St. Louis will arrive in the city at 1:30 p. m. today with their fifteen concessions. They will immediately erect their tents and prepare for their part of the fair.

Ninety-six pig pens are engaged this year, showing that there are more pigs on exhibition this year than ever before.

The fair headquarters will be open all day today at the fairgrounds for the taking of entries. The directors of the fair wish the people to know that their season tickets will not admit them to the auto races on Saturday. The promoter of these races is selling separate tickets for them and technically the fair board has nothing to do with the group on Saturday.

Reduced prices on tailors to fit auto tops. Geo. D. Kilian.

C. & A. FINAL EXCURSION ANNOUNCED

The Chicago and Alton Railroad has announced its final popular low fare excursion from Illinois stations to Chicago Saturday and Sunday, September 2nd and 3rd.

Tickets will be sold from stations Roodhouse to Covell inclusive and Springfield to Dwight inclusive for trains arriving in Chicago Saturday evening and Sunday morning and will be limited to returning trains leaving Chicago Saturday and Sunday.

THEY DIE TODAY

(By NEA)

Today 3800 Americans die. That is the average number that daily go to join the billions who have passed into eternity.

This year nearly 1,400,000 Americans will die.

If they all met death at the same time and in the same community—for instance, by earthquake or battle—the catastrophe would be talked about for centuries.

But they slip away gradually, one here, one there. So there is no general excitement about their departure.

Of the 3800 who die today, 27 are murdered and 41 commit suicide. Rather a bad record for each 24 hours.

The rest are snipped off the trees of life by disease, old age and accidents.

No matter how they happen to depart, the last thought of most of them is: "It has been an interesting experience. Life on earth is a journey. I wonder where I am going."

While 3800 die today, 6500 babies give their first cry and are

Oh, Boy! Where Do We Go from Here!

THE GREATEST JAMES OLIVER CURWOOD STORY EVER TOLD

The Call of a Helpless Girl: "KAZAN"

"Black" McCready laughed at her cry. The wilderness of the North stretched around them; the only other man for miles lay snow-blind in the hut; and the girl felt her strength ebbing fast. But—Far down the trail Kazan had picked up the hated man-scent; he knew McCready only as the wielder of whips, the driver of hate; and thru the snow the dog came, fangs bared, eyes afire with the killer-strain. From the distance Joan heard his bay.

She called—and the wolf-dog sprang! You'll thrill through every scene of drama and romance in this great tale of a big dog's part in love story of the wilds

Mary Miles Minter

"SOUTH OF SUVA"

Phyllis Latimer goes to the South Sea Islands to rejoin her husband whom she married three years previously on the eve of his sailing. She finds him a drunken degenerate and after a few weeks of heart-broken efforts to help him brace up when his only desire is to drag her down to his level, she runs away, and goes to a neighboring island, where she poses as Pauline Leonard, the ward of John Webster, its owner. Phyllis has met Pauline on shipboard and knows enough about her to impersonate her successfully to the man who has never seen his ward. Her husband incites a native uprising against Webster who hires Hindoo labor instead of native labor, and finding Phyllis on Webster's island, acting as secretary, drags her home with him and gives her to the natives for a human sacrifice. Webster and government police arrive in time to save Phyllis from the savages. Latimer is killed in the riot, and Phyllis and Webster confess their love for each other.

YANKS and LEGIONAIRES

Forceful Facts Concerning the Interests of Former Soldiers, Sailors and Marines.

The United States is credited with never having started a war.

The Italian standing army is being reduced to 200,000 men.

The United States Army Air Service has 600 planes in active service.

The World War cost to France was approximately $37,58,000,000.

The present force of the American army in Germany totals 1,229 officers and men.

The Army Air Service has developed an airplane that will travel 200 miles an hour. The engines are 600 horsepower.

According to reports quoted in England, the direct money cost of the World War to Germany was $49,362,000,000.

The steamship Pocahontas, formerly the German liner Princess Irene, seized when America entered the World War, is again German-owned.

Pennsylvania has 667 American Legion Posts, and more than 56,000 members. The State has the largest unit of the national organization.

Thru the Union of German Warriors the German Government could issue orders directly to more than 2,000,000 ex-service men in 48 hours.

The United States War Department has issued an order forbidding members of the American Army of Occupation on the Rhine to marry German women.

A solid gold medal is awarded every few years to members of the National Guard of Pennsylvania who have served the greatest number of years in the organization.

One of the "secrets of victory" taught to Chinese soldiers follows: "The enemy must be killed; if the rifle is broken, use the butt; if the butt is broken, use the fist; if the fist is disabled, use the teeth."

The first airplane landing in the Grand Canyon of Arizona was recently made by Lieut. R. B. Thomas, Officers' Reserve Corps of Kansas. The landing place was 3000 feet below the rim of the canyon.

The American Legion Auxiliary, composed of the wives, mothers, daughters and sisters of the legionaires of the war, is looking for the American mother who had the greatest number of sons in the World War.

The gross direct money cost of the World War was approximately $223,471,000,000, apportioned about $140,124,000,000 to the Entente Allies and the United States, and about $83,347,000,000 to the former Central Powers.

Holes, bored with acetylene torches a few feet from the muzzle, are the method used for "scrapping" 12-inch naval guns under the disarmament treaty.

Armor plate is removed from the sides of the vessels in chunks, weighing 25 to 40 tons, and cut up for sale. The nickel alloy in the steel renders it valuable.

The War Department has delivered $139,773,986 worth of surplus war material, construction to the different States. Among the supplies distributed were 29,325 vehicles, consisting of 24,752 trucks and 4573 automobiles, as well as a large number of tractors in addition.

A statue of General Pershing has been given to the city of San Francisco, Calif., and is to be placed in an open space of Golden Gate Park. The statue shows General Pershing in full uniform with cap and medal ribbons. At his feet is a battered German helmet, giving a touch of action to the composition, and balancing the figure.

One of the first moves by the War Department in reducing the army's enlisted strength from 150,000 to 125,000 men, as decided by Congress, was announced recently in army orders for the putting on of the inactive list of ten infantry regiments. The regiments are the forty-fourth, forty-sixth, forty-eighth, forty-ninth, fifty-fifth, fifty-sixth, fifty-eighth, sixty-second and sixty-third.

PREMIER POINCARE REJECTS ELEVENTH HOUR GUARANTEES

(Continued From Page One) financial situation was desperate and that social order in its entirety in Germany was threatened. Other members of the mission, including M. Mauckler, reported that they were equally impressed with the seriousness of the German crisis.

See Evidence of Prosperity
The French reported that they were amazed to see great evidence of prosperity in Germany and declared that a large number of Germans who apparently had discarded their own currency were using dollars instead.

It is not likely that any decision will be taken by the commission for several days.

Sir John Bradbury recommended to the commission that a moratorium in cash payments should be granted until Germany stabilizes the mark and balanced her budget. But the French solidly opposed this recommendation. The British view is that at best a moratorium can only act as a bridge until the whole question is again discussed at the projected November conference on interallied debts and indemnities. Such a meeting is imperative in the view of the British reparations officials.

Despite the gloom in British quarters tonight the British representatives are making every effort to avoid a direct vote by the commission, because they feel that occupation of the Ruhr, or any other repressive measures against Germany at this time would only hasten the impending collapse of Germany and produce no cash for France.

If France is convinced that Germany can find 150,000,000 gold marks for the August, September and October payments. By that time officials believed that another conference will have to discuss another agreement. If the commission grants a moratorium with the guarantees just offered, France will respect the decision and assume her liberty of action. It is authoritatively declared tonight.

If the commission refuses a moratorium France will also act but in a different manner. The commission will meet again tomorrow.

A French official pointed out this evening that there never has been a question of a moratorium in the deliveries of merchandise, which are to continue regardless of the decisions affecting cash payments.

HARDING WILL ACT ONLY IN CASE OF CRISIS

(Continued From Page One) in the interest of the public thus dropped out of sight. It was indicated that the administration still thought such legislation advisable but that senate and house leaders were not inclined to ask for it.

A bill authorizing the president to take over individual railroads which do not adequately perform their functions as common carriers is understood to have been already prepared by Chairman Cummins of the senate interstate commerce committee and he indicated today that it might be presented on Monday or Tuesday.

Today the president was visited by John T. Adams, chairman of the Republican national committee and Senator Watson, Republican, Indiana, after Senator Watson had discussed the outlook in a telephone conversation with T. Dewitt Cuyler, chairman of the association of railway executives. The senator indicated afterward that the president felt certain of a settlement of the anthracite strike in the near future and had by no means become convinced that there must be a resort to government operation in the rail trouble.

Tonight still another conference was said to be in progress on the Presidential Yacht Mayflower on her way down the Potomac for a week end cruise with Secretaries Hoover and Fall, Attorney General Daugherty and Senator Cummins among the guests of the president.

Senator Townsend, Republican Michigan, supporting the Borah fact finding bill, declared in the senate there was a feeling among the people that possibly there had been a combination between the mine owners and their workers and the railroads and their workers in the present situation. He added that he could not see how the roads could benefit by such an arrangement but that he could conceive that in the case of coal the operators could after the mines were reopened and in the face of a shortage obtain prices that not only would enable them to recoup losses caused by the strike but make a profit besides.

Presentation of a separate coal commission bill was made in the house by Representative Dickinson, Republican, Iowa.

SCOTT COUNTY FARM BUREAU HAD PROGRAM

Interesting Program Carried Out Saturday Under Auspices of Farm Bureau — Other News Notes From Winchester

Winchester, Aug. 26—The program given at Monument Park Saturday under auspices of the Scott county farm bureau proved a very interesting one. Brief addresses were made by Clyde North, president of the farm bureau; H. B. Dean of the American Farm Bureau and M. L. Hunt. The pony show in the lot adjoining the tent attracted a great deal of attention, fifteen or twenty ponies being on exhibition. The first prize was awarded to Miss Annabel Moore and the second to Clarence Tindale. The grades were based on 50 per cent on the best pony and 50 per cent on the best rider.

The hog sale held by Moore Brothers Thursday was well attended and prices were satisfactory, considering the railroad conditions. The top sow sold for $75, the purchaser being O. E. Madis of Jacksonville. The top boar brought $50 and was purchased by A. D. Ornellas of Jacksonville. Mr. Moore expects to have some of his hogs on exhibition at the Morgan county fair.

News Notes.
Work on the community high school is progressing rapidly and it is hoped that the building will be ready for occupancy by Sept. 11, when the schools are to open.

Elmer Mason of Canton arrived Saturday afternoon for a short visit with his mother here.

Lee Skiles and daughter, Helen were shoppers from Virginia Saturday afternoon.

MANY ENTRANTS FOR BABIES CONFERENCE

Dr. R. V. Brokaw, County Health Officer, Announces Corps of Assistants and Further Details of Plans—One Hundred and Thirty-Five Babies Entered.

Organization has been completed for the Better Babies Conference under the direction of Dr. R. V. Brokaw, county health officer, at the Morgan county fair. A part of the exhibit of the state department of public health which was used at the Pageant of Progress in Chicago has arrived and is on the grounds. The remaining pieces will be shipped from Aurora and are expected to arrive early Monday morning.

A total of 135 applications for entrance in the better babies conference have been filed to date and it is probable that a number of others will be received before Monday evening the time of the closing of the lists.

The tent which will be devoted to the conference is already up. A board floor will be placed therein and the space will be partitioned for the sake of convenience in conducting the work. Every facility has been provided for the comfort of the mothers and the children, and proper attention will be given in the matter of sterilization and other details.

Notices will be used giving mothers definite hours of appointment and everything possible will be done to avoid unnecessary delay. The children will be scheduled on ten minute intervals and after the examinations are completed the score cards will be handed to the scoring committee for the final reckoning of the score. This reckoning work will require about one hour and when it has been completed the cards will pass to the county health officer, who will then consult with the mothers regarding the conditions indicated.

In case of physical defect the child will be referred to the physician, the family dentist or to a specialist, as the case may require.

Awards will be announced at 5 o'clock Friday afternoon in event the final reckonings can be completed by that time. It is hoped that Dr. Isaac D. Rawlings, director of the Illinois state department of public health, will be on the grounds to present the awards.

The Morgan County Medical society and the Dental society endorse the proposition and are prepared to lend their support to the enterprise.

Dr. David W. Reid, who has very successfully conducted previous better babies conferences in the city, will schedule the physicians for the various sessions. Their work will include the inspection of the children for evidence of possible communicable diseases in order to prevent any spread of contagion, the physical examination of the various entrants.

Dr. R. R. Buckthorpe, president of the Morgan County Dental society, will schedule the dentists who will make the oral and dental examinations.

Dr. G. C. Nelson of the state department of public health, will conduct the various measurements of the children.

B. F. Shafer, principal of the local high school will assume the direction of the scoring work.

Miss Ida Vanner, superintendent of Passavant hospital, will schedule the nurses for the dressing room and nursery, and the clerical assistants for the medical examiners, and will generally supervise the work of the examinations.

Miss L. Maude Ryman, R. N., will act as assistant to Miss Vanner.

Miss Lucille Stevens, R. N., will handle the registrations.

Miss Lillian Havenhill of this city will give the tests for mental development.

M. C. Hook will act as supervisor of equipment.

Passavant hospital will supply blankets, drugs and first aid supplies.

Andre and Andre are loaning tables and cots.

A. G. Cody is furnishing chairs for the occasion.

The Jacksonville Railway and Light Co., G. A. Sieber and the Haas Electric Co., are loaning electric fans.

STATE CATTLE HERE PASS TUBERCULOSIS TEST

Of all the cattle in the dairy herds of the State School for the Deaf and The Illinois State Hospital only two failed to pass the test for tuberculosis given recently. The report was made by Dr. F. A. Laird, Chief Veterinarian of Illinois. The remainder of the herds were found to be entirely unaffected by tubercular tests.

Twenty three hundred head of cattle at the eighteen state institutions are free from tuberculosis and have been accredited by Federal Inspectors, according to Mr. Laird.

BREAKS ARM WHILE CRANKING CAR SATURDAY

Frank McCurley of Strawn's Crossing had the misfortune to break his arm late Saturday afternoon while attempting to crank his car. The accident happened at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Gallagher in Woodson, where Mr. McCurley and family had been visiting Saturday. The break is a bad one and will keep Mr. McCurley from his accustomed duties for some time to come.

Mr. and Mrs. Ab Barnett of White Hall are visiting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Hahn on South Clay avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lewis and Mr. and Mrs. William Lewis motored to the city from southeast of town yesterday.

This evoked the reply from Senator Harrison that such a plan was not practicable. Senator Harrison declared there would be strikes and lockouts as long as some men had to work for a living and other men conducted industries that required the labor of great numbers of workers. He suggested that the quickest way to end the strike would be to bring the leaders of both sides to Washington, make them show their hands and, then if one side refused to yield to reasonable demands, to inform the American people and let them judge.

DR. CARSON AT WESTMINSTER

Opal Story Concluded

We have told you where Opals are found, and how damaged opals are repolished and made new.

Now for a little sidelight on the opal peddler.

Down in the interior of Old Mexico passenger trains run within a few miles of some of the opal diggings. The Indian has learned that the average tourist is legitimate and fairly easy prey. He obtains a supply of the cheap and practically worthless opals of varying sizes and a supply of sheets of black paper and hides himself to the nearest railroad station where trains are scheduled to stop five or ten minutes. A little before train time he fills his mouth with the stones, heat and moisture giving a temporary brilliance to a worthless stone. As the train arrives these are wiped and placed on the black paper and the victim is approached. The opals are enticing, the victim interested and the price? Oh, Cinco Pesos ($5.7 for the lot, very cheap. Usually a deal is quickly made and the subject wakes up shortly a sadder and wiser tourist. If the tourist has been stung once and wants the stones and is insistent he can make the deal for a good old U. S. A. Nickel and once in a blue moon, he may find an honest-to-gosh opal in the lot.

LOCAL YOUNG LADIES NAMED STYLE MODELS

Ten of Jacksonville's Prettiest Will Exhibit Latest Fashions at County Fair this Week—Arrangements Complete.

A bevy of local young ladies will appear over the footlights at the Merchants Fashion Pageant and Vaudeville Show to be held Thursday and Friday evenings at the County Fair. The very latest fashion decrees will be displayed in the exact way that they should be worn.

The show will offer two delightful hours of entertainment to its patrons that promises to be unique in several interesting ways. It combines Professional Vaudeville with local talent and a style exhibit that equals any even in the largest cities. It will be held on an open air stage in front of the grandstand on the fair grounds and will open promptly at eight o'clock.

Mayor Crabtree will deliver the opening address from the platform and will welcome the guests to the many beautiful displays. The entertainment features will alternate with the Apparel displays with accompaniment of a twenty-five piece band under the direction of J. Bart Johnson.

Entertainment Features
Train and Train will furnish one of the features of the program with a unique sketch, entitled "Fifteen Minutes in a Dressing Room." Mr. and Mrs. Train are well known artists in this line and have been members of the Keith Circuit for some time.

James and Shaw, King and Queen of repartee are professional entertainers who are scheduled on the program. They will give several varied numbers in which they display their many talents and should be very entertaining to the audience.

Miss Beulah Tull, a well known singer of this city will sing several selections. She will be accompanied on the piano by Miss Dorothy Sargent of Franklin. The musical talent of these young ladies has charmed scores of local admirers.

Frank Kirk of the Harvey Minstrels who has gained fame in the theatrical world will arrive with an act entitled "Impersonation of Souza, The Bandmaster."

The Alton Amusement Company will present, Jargo, the Trained Giraffe. This is a hilarious act and will afford a great deal of amusement for the patrons.

The Style Show

No efforts have been spared to make the style show feature as instructive as well as entertaining and to display the very best in both formal and informal dress.

In the millinery displays to be shown by H. J. Smith will be seen hats shown by Gage at the Marigold Gardens in Chicago. This Fashion show was one of the most elaborate ever held in the country and the fact that some of the hats are being displayed here is a feature in itself. Also the first prize winning hat of the Grand Prix of Paris will be shown, the duplicate being obtained recently by Mr. Smith. It has already made famous the tricornes, richly ornamented with metal drapings of Venetian effect.

Shanken store will show several numbers of ladies coats and dresses direct from the Style Shows of St. Louis and other large cities. Mrs. Myrtle Tandy will have charge of the exhibits of the young models. The success of last years fashion show was largely due to her able direction.

Hopper and Son and Edwin Smart Shoe Company are prepared to show the latest footwear and several innovations, particularly in the line of ladies wear.

Myers Brothers and Louis L. Horen will exhibit fall styles for men in the manner in which convention says that they should be worn. Mens and boys clothing will be shown in both sport and conservative models.

The program which was arranged by Stanley Wright has entailed a great deal of work and a great deal of credit is due him for his services.

Louis L. Horen is chairman of the style show committee and has been untiring in his efforts to make it a grand success. All arrangements of the show have been under the supervision of this committee under Mr. Horen.

Young Lady Models
Ten young ladies have been selected to exhibit the style and charm of wearing apparel by the committee. They are:

Dorothy Wall, Elizabeth Arnold, Nell Price, Mary Cosgriff, Lucille Mason, Stella Hayes, Hazel Strawn, Grace Tilton, Lucille Mellon, Louise Trahey.

Babe Ruth Threatens to Overcome Lead of Williams In Homers

Prediction Made by the Slugger Back in May Promises to be Fulfilled—George Sisler Still Leading Ty Cobb—Hornsby Gains in the National—Results in Other Leagues

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Way back—when his home run total was expressed in only a single figure—and when suspensions, fines, and bleacher hootings were more of a daily occurrence than a four base hit—Babe Ruth said the 1922 season would end with him the champion home run hitter of the major leagues.

In those days, back in May, Babe and Mrs. Ruth seemed to be about the only people in the United States confident of Ruth's comeback. Today, Ruth's challenge to Ken Williams of St. Louis, whose home run hitting at the start of the season was a sensation, and Tilly Walker of the Athletics, has begun to sound like the real thing.

Ruth, with the close of the season a little more than a month away, has twenty-six homers to his credit. Williams, thirty-two and Walker thirty. The Bambino smashed out four this week, while the best Williams could do was a pair. Walker, however, connected with three. Ruth, if he continues his present pace, will make good his prediction in the judgment of baseball critics.

The race in American League for batting honors continues to be a merry one with the veterans battling to overcome George Sisler, of St. Louis, who is showing the way with an average of .413. Ty Cobb, pilot of the Tigers is trailing Sisler with .400. This Speaker, leader of the Indians is next with .370. The remarkable slugging of Harry Heilmann of Detroit, the past week had placed him among the first four with an average of .353. The averages include Wednesday's contests.

Hauser, Connie Mack's first sacker, altho he has played in only seven games, made a wonderful showing during the past week. From a position down about twentieth in the list, Hauser boosted his average from .321 to .351 by making seventeen hits in his last eight games.

Sisler added three more bases to his string of thefts and continues to set the pace for the base stealers with forty, his closest rival being Williams, his teammate, who has thirty-two.

Other leading batters participating in ninety or more games: Tobin, St. Louis, .336; Williams, St. Louis, .335; Schang, New York, .333; Galloway, Philadelphia, .330; Blue, Detroit, .330; Bassler, Detroit, .329.

National League. Smashing out thirteen hits in his last five games, Rogers Hornsby, the St. Louis star, succeeded in widening the gap to nineteen points that separates him from his rivals in the scramble for the batting honors of the National League, as compared to eleven points a week ago. Hornsby, if he maintains his present pace, will be in no apparent danger of being nosed out of the league batting championship, and he apparently has the home run honors already tucked away.

Hornsby is batting .382, while Bigbee of Pittsburgh, his closest rival, is hitting .363. Grimes of Chicago is just a point behind Bigbee. Hornsby has bagged twenty-nine homers, with Williams of Philadelphia as his closest competitor with eighteen. "Hack" Miller of Chicago, who has shown a liking for left hand pitching, battled his way into fifth place in the list of leaders by connecting safely eight times in his last four games. Miller's performance, with the exception of Hornsby, was the outstanding feature of the week.

Max Carey of Pittsburgh continues to be the class of the league in base stealing with a total of thirty-six. Other leading batters for ninety or more games: Hollocher, Chicago, .354.

NEW YORK TAKES LEAD IN AMERICAN

Defeated St. Louis by Score of 9 to 2—Sisler Carries Batting Streak to 25th Consecutive Game.

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—The New York Americans saw-sawed back into the American league lead today in a hard game, winning from St. Louis.

New York made its runs in lots of one and two, scoring in every inning but the first and third. Wright, who started off by hitting vigorously and Bayne also was clouted hard. Mays bruised several fingers on his right hand while stopping Gerber's hot drive in the seventh and lost some of his effectiveness. St. Louis hitting him for two doubles and three singles in the last two innings. Sisler carried his batting streak to his 25th game when he singled in the sixth inning. The score:

GOLF TOURNAMENT STARTED SATURDAY

Several Fine Scores Are Already Entered in the Race for the City Championship.

About thirty golf fans turned in scores for the free for all tournament at Nichols park yesterday. About sixty are expected to enter the preliminaries on the course today. The tournament will run thru the entire week, with the result of the lowest fifteen batting for final honors. Those eliminated will be entitled to entrance in the handicap consolation tournament. The loving cup which is now held by Marcy Osborn will be turned over to the winner of the tournament. However, if Mr. Osborn is winner again this year the cup will become his property for keeps.

The best scores that were turned in yesterday were by A. M. Masters and Dr. Dinsmore, the former making 78 and the latter 80.

RUTH SUPREME

Game Knows Other Able Batsmen But No Hitter, Billy Evans Says, in the Babe's Class

By BILLY EVANS

"Babe" Ruth, the home-run king of the universe, is still trailing in the 1922 campaign.

"Ken" Williams is showing the way in the American League; Rogers Hornsby is out in front in the National.

Despite his late start, I was of the opinion that Ruth would be out in front by Aug. 1. I felt confident that he would retain his crown of "Home-Run King." It is beginning to look as if he would be dethroned.

The rush to the front by Williams, the rather unexpected home-run spree that Hornsby has been indulging in, and the great number of other players who have broken into the circle of home-run sluggers this year has caused much discussion as to how they compare with Ruth.

Some Questions Arise
Does Williams hit the ball as hard as Ruth? Does Hornsby compare with Ruth as a long-distance slugger?

These and scores of other questions relating to the batting end of the game have been fired at me ever since Ruth started to trail a number of other home-run hitters.

Ruth is supreme when it comes to the making of home runs. In my opinion no other player in the game compares with him when it comes to getting distance to his drives.

Williams is a great hitter. Rogers Hornsby is a marvelous batsman. In all probability a hitter of the Hornsby type is far more valuable to his club than Ruth. However, when you start discussing the great sluggers of the game you must accord Ruth position number one.

Will Live in History
Ruth may not lead the home-run hitters this year. I doubt it, he does. The swats of Ruth, however, will go down in history long after many of his rivals have been forgotten.

Several years ago I asked Hugh Jennings how Ruth compared with the great sluggers of his time. It was the day after Ruth had beaten Detroit with one of his record-breaking home runs. Jennings was managing the Tigers at the time.

"Never saw a batter like him and never expect to see another," is the way Jennings expressed himself.

In his day Dan Brouthers was a noted slugger. He goes back a bit farther than Jennings. Dan is employed now in an official capacity at the Polo Grounds. One day, after Ruth had thrilled with a long homer I asked Brouthers how he compared with the old-time sluggers.

"Ruth hits them about twice as far as we old-time sluggers did," replied Brouthers. "However, the ball is much livelier than in our day," he added. "I would have liked to bat against the modern ball."

There you have the opinion of two famous stars of yesterday. They say Ruth is without compare.

Williams is a great batsman, as is Hornsby. The other home-run contenders are worthy rivals, but Ruth stands out as the longest hitter in the history of the game. Most of his home runs are classics. Few of them are high flies that just clear some short fence.

"The Colossus of Swat" is the title given Ruth by a certain expert, and he richly deserves it.

DETROIT DEFEATED WASHINGTON 8-5

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Detroit defeated Washington in a loosely played game 8 to 5. It was a costly victory for the Tigers as their hard hitting outfielder, Harry Heilmann, in a collision at first base with Brower had his collar bone broken and probably will be out of the game for the season. Brower stopped to take a throw at the instant Heilmann reached first and as a result the latter went into the air nearly turning a complete somersault and landing on his right shoulder. Detroit, 01132000—8 15 0 Washington 21200000—5 12 3 Daus, Moore, Ehmske and Bassler; Zachary, Brillhead and Gharriety.

MAYS' PITCHING GETS SISLER'S GOAT

CHICAGO, Aug. 26.—Carl Mays' side arm pitching had George Sisler, batting star of the St. Louis Browns, almost helpless today and he cracked out only one hit in four times at bat. Now he is only 14 points in front of his rival, Ty Cobb of the Tigers, with a mark of .414.

Cobb poked two hits in five times at bat and is hitting .400.

FABER TOO MUCH FOR PHILADELPHIA

Veteran Spitter Allowed Athletics Only Six Hits—Sheeley Made Two Home Runs.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 26.—Faber proved too much for Philadelphia and Chicago won 8 to 0. The veteran spitball pitcher allowed the Athletics only six hits, all singles, not a local player reaching third base. Sheeley made a home run in the fifth inning and another in the ninth. ## ELON E. EDWARD DIES IN CARROLLTON

Well Known Citizen of Greene
County Succumbs To Heart Disease—Funeral Monday.

Elon A. Eldred, a long time citizen of Greene county, died at his home in Carrollton Saturday morning. Mr. Eldred had been sick only a short time and his death was due to an affection of the heart. The deceased was born July 11, 1842, in Greene county, the son of William Eldred, a pioneer resident of that county, who came there in early days from New York state.

The deceased after his school days engaged in farming and with passing years carried on extensive operations and came to be known as one of the substantial business men of Greene county.

Mr. Eldred was the last of a family of twelve children. He was married to Miss Mattie Robertson, a daughter of the late John Robertson, of this county, who survives him. One son preceded him in death.

Mr. Eldred was of especially genial and kindly spirit and had the name of being one of the most popular men in Greene county. He had long been a member of the Presbyterian church of Carrollton.

The funeral will be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock at his residence.

SPOTTED CHINA HOG BREEDERS ELECT OFFICERS

The Spotted Poland China hog breeders of Morgan county held a successful meeting at the farm bureau office Saturday afternoon.

The business program included the election of officers for the year, resulting as follows:

President—Charles N. Wyatt, Franklin.
Vice President—Orville Madison, Jacksonville.
Secretary—B. H. McCarthy, Jacksonville.
Members Executive Committee—Charles Thies and Fred J. Moeller.

Each member of this association is a genuine enthusiast for the Spotted China Breed and entries will be made for all the Spotted China offerings at the county fair. The reports presented indicated increasing interest in the Spotted China hogs and a demand for the stock.

MANY ARRESTED IN ANTI-LIQUOR RAIDS

STATE'S ATTORNEY'S FORCES
ACT IN CITY AND COUNTY

Officials Co-operate in Gathering
In Men and Women Charged With Illegal Dispensing of Liquor—Mr. Robinson Says
Evidence Is Conclusive.

Spectacular features were not lacking in the liquor raids made in Jacksonville and Morgan county at 6 o'clock Saturday morning. The raids were made on the basis of information filed against about twenty persons by State's Attorney Carl E. Robinson. The state's attorney had the co-operation of the Jacksonville police force in making the arrests in the city, while outside of the city limits constables and the sheriff's force made the arrests.

In each instance some quantity of liquor was secured to use as evidence in the coming hearings. Information filed by the state's attorney in the county court names the following persons: Douglas Norton, Charles Haxton, Chester Paxton, Edgar Hopper, alias Mike Hopper, E. T. Konrad, alias "Sailor" Konrad, H. P. DeFrates, alias Proctor DeFrates, Mary DeFrates, Lydia Miller, Luella Wilson, Jesse and Jessie Reavis, Martin A. Taylor, Doyle Luttrell, Mattie Early, Harry Witwer, Fred Hutchison, Charles Armstrong, Charles DeFrates, Walter, alias "Pete" Haxton, John Haxton and Frank Childers.

The Haxtons live at 316 Reid street, Mrs. Wilson at 326 Reid street, Mr. and Mrs. Reavis at 337 North West street, Mrs. James Miller, 221 West Lafayette avenue, Harry Witwer, 362 1/2 North West street, Edgar Hopper, 401 1/2 North Main street, Mattie Early, 22 East Madison street, Chester Paxton, 530 South West street, Douglas Norton, 328 East Washington street.

A raid was also made at the home of Witwer at 227 Freedman street, and the warrant for Konrad covered his place of business in Broadway alley. The warrant for Proctor DeFrates applied to the restaurant he conducts in the Grand hotel building on East Court street, and Fred Hutchison's place of business is known as the Loop Cigar store on West Morgan street.

The warrants in all instances inside the city limits were served by Chief of Police Kiloran and members of the police force. The whole force assembled at police headquarters shortly before 6 o'clock Saturday morning.

Mayor Crabtree was present to supplement the work of the chief of police with reference to the importance of conducting the raids rapidly and efficiently. The police found liquor in every place except the house of Douglas Norton and samples were secured and taken to police headquarters.

Konrad broke a five gallon bottle said to have contained white mule, but a quantity of the liquor was secured.

Proctor DeFrates attempted to break a number of bottles with the use of a heavy butcher knife and in the resulting scuffle received a scalp wound from a policeman's billy.

Raids Outside City.

Outside the city the residence of Tony DeFrates on King street was raided by Constables Coombe of Lynnhill and Kirby of Alexander. DeFrates with a poker tried the bottle smashing game but the officers secured at least a pint of liquor.

At the home of Mrs. Mary DeFrates in the same locality the raid was made by Constable Harley Adams of Jacksonville and Constable Shepherdson of Franklin. They found two barrels of wine in this house.

In the Alexander house the participants were Sheriff Weatherford, Deputies Andrews, Wright and Roach, who were accompanied by State's Attorney Robinson. The place raided there was said to be owned by Proctor DeFrates of this city and J. E. Jacobs. The latter was in charge of the place and offered some resistance. He was seen by State's Attorney Robinson remove a bottle of whiskey from an ice box and toss it into a barrel of salt. This liquor was immediately secured.

Later in the day Sheriff Weatherford and the deputies conducted a further search of the Alexander premises and found concealed in the wall a glass bottle containing a gallon and a half of a liquor said to be white mule.

The information filed by the state's attorney was on the basis of evidence secured by A. E. Trenary and Wesley Coombes as investigators. Evidence of this kind against the offenders is said to be definite but State's Attorney Robinson wished to strengthen his cases by the finding and seizing of liquor in the various places under suspicion.

It is understood that a number of those arrested expect to come into the county court during this week and enter pleas of guilty. All cases were brought in the county court except that against Tony DeFrates and evidence against him is to be presented to the grand jury, as his is a circuit court case.

May Face Penitentiary.

If DeFrates is found guilty this will be a second offense and under the Illinois prohibition law he can be punished with a penitentiary term. None of the others have been convicted under the present act and so their punishment cannot be more than the fines and jail imprisonment.

Statement By Mr. Robinson.

State's Attorney Robinson expressed himself as entirely satisfied with the assistance by the various officers and the raids were carried out entirely in accordance with the outlined plans.

He went on to say that he was well aware of the fact that all violators in the county had not been apprehended but said that other places were under strong suspicion and the investigation would be continued.

Mr. Robinson said the officers needed more co-operation on the part of the public and good citizens everywhere in the county; that the Illinois Prohibition Act was an effective piece of legislation and much could be accomplished thru it if more citizens who know of violations would report them to his office; and that unjust criticism has been made against officers when it was absolutely unfounded so far as the facts were concerned.

The state's attorney said further that since the Prohibition Act went into effect July 1, 1921, twenty-three men had been convicted in this county and of those standing trial, only two had been acquitted.

He said that he had been collecting the evidence for Saturday morning's raid during the period of several months and that in no case had a place been raided where he did not possess the most conclusive evidence of sales of intoxicating liquor.

HIGH TARIFF ON WOOL IS CALLED ERROR

Harry M. Capps Tells Why He Counts Proposed Tariff Rate
Unfortunate for General Business.

Harry M. Capps, president of J. Capps & Sons, was recently in San Antonio, Texas, on business for his firm. Mr. Capps while there gave in an interview in the San Antonio Express his views of the tariff bill in its relation to wool. Mr. Capps expressed the opinion that the high tariff proposed on wools will be an economic mistake as it is certain to increase the cost of wools to the consumer.

It is a generally known fact that the price of wool has advanced nearly 100 per cent in the last nine months. While declaring his belief in protective tariff policy, Mr. Capps unequivocally stated that in his view the proposed wool schedule is too high.

Mr. Capps said:

"I believe that anything is a mistake that tends to boost prices at this time, and while I am a Republican and favor a protective tariff, I think it poor policy in several ways to pass the proposed tariff law since it will make the duty much too high," he said.

He explained that the war and its consequent inflation of prices had caused a slump from which the farmers and manufacturers are just recovering, and that, in his opinion, a high tariff which will increase the price of manufactured goods will give results that will be disastrous to the present prospects of nation-wide prosperity.

"We have been trying for the last two years to lower the price of all manufactured goods and increase the farmers' and producers' prices in order to equalize commercial conditions and bring about a natural exchange of trade and now that the farmers are facing a return of prosperity and the manufacturers and retailers have reached a stable basis, it seems short sighted to do anything which will again bring about inequality in the price of the producer's goods and that of the manufacturer."

"I fear that after two years of liquidation it is a poor economic policy to raise the price of anything. It is not only an economic mistake, but a political one, for everything indicates that the passing of such a tariff as is proposed will knock the Republicans out of power this fall. And it is also a mistake from the standpoint of national policy, for it will hurt foreign trade and is consequently bound to postpone the payment to the United States of the war debt of Germany," he declared.

Won't Affect Fall Prices.

Mr. Capps explained that the result of the emergency tariff has been seen in the rapid advance in the price of wool. He said, however, that the consumer will not feel this advance this fall, since wools have been sold by the mills at the lowest basis since the World War, but that the spring prices will show the result of the advance.

He said that sheep raisers in this country received from 40 to 50 cents per pound for wool this year where they got 12 cents, or at best, 16 cents last year. "This is a desirable condition from their standpoint, it would be all right, but the fact is that the United States does not produce half enough to supply the country," he said.

He explained that while the best wool comes from Australia and South America, the woolen mills have been using India wool recently. He said that the Capps mills have used some Texas wool, but that Texas, as in other wool-raising sections, had fallen down in wool production with the increasing value of the land. The wool industry of the United States is practically confined to Montana, Wyoming, Utah and North Dakota, he said.

Mr. Capps said that his last trip to San Antonio was made 18 years ago and he declared himself amazed at the change and growth of the city. "All I recognized was the river and the Alamo," he said. "It is much cooler than I expected to find it. I don't believe you have any warmer days here than they do in Illinois, and the breeze last night was delightful," he said.

Mr. Capps represents the third generation in his family to take active part in the woolen mills and factory established in 1839 by his grandfather, he said, the Capps Mills having progressed with the advance of the industry from the days when the women took the wool home and spun it and the cloth was slowly evolved from a handloom, to the present days of machine efficiency.

WILL BUILD THEATER AT ROCHESTER N. Y. TO INSTILL LOVE OF MUSIC

Building is the Gift of George Eastman to the University of Rochester—Structure
Will Cost $5,000,000—Will Draw People to the Theater by Use of Motion Pictures

(By The Associated Press)
ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 26.—The Eastman Theater, George Eastman's $5,000,000 gift to the University of Rochester as an integral part of the Eastman School of music, will be opened early in September. The playhouse was conceived by Mr. Eastman as a means to educate the masses in the love of music. He purposes to draw them to good concerts by the use of motion pictures. The theater has been described as one of the most unusual structures in the world. It contains every kind of musical instrument, including the largest organ in any playhouse in the world; it is wonderfully well ventilated and lighted, and it is adorned with paintings worth several hundred dollars. It seats 3,400 people.

The idea was conceived by Mr. Eastman from altruistic motives. There will be sought a solution to the problems confronting the purveyors of low-priced entertainment, so that the character of the entertainment offered the masses may be improved, refined and undergo an evolution that will establish good music as an every day need.

"It is necessary for people to have an interest in life outside of their occupation," said Mr. Eastman in commenting upon the enterprise. "I believe that working men are going to be shortened order that people may live full and happier lives. What is going to be done with the leisure as obtained? I am not at all of the opinion that people have been unduly down by industry. Leisure is unfruitful because we do not know how to use it productively. I am a reformer—far from it. I am interested in music per se, and I am led whereby to attempt to share my pleasure with others."

"For many years I have been connected with musical organizations in Rochester. I have come to see that what we need is a body of trained listeners quite as much as a body of trained performers. Without appreciation, about the presence of a large number of people who understand music and who get joy out of it, I cannot attempt to develop the musical resources of any city is doomed to failure. Because in Rochester we realize this, we have undertaken a scheme for building a musical capacity on a large scale in childhood."

"I do not imagine that music is going to occupy all of the leisure interests of people. I know that my own interests are varied. In fond of athletics. All sorts of sports, recreations and diversions must be developed if we are to make full use of our leisure. This field certainly is not a new one of righting old wrongs, but of creating something entirely new. There must be built up if we are to get the happiest use of leisure. Incidentally, in the pursuit of this ideal I should like to see Rochester become a great musical center, known throughout the world."

Entrance to the theater is by way of a commodious lobby finished in rich marble and bronze. The massive auditorium abounds in exquisite marbles, sculptural and rich hangings. The decorative scheme is Italian Renaissance, Venetian in treatment. When the playhouse opens it will mark the end of motion picture presentation in the dark, according to the experts associated with its construction. Thru the

MAN FALLS FROM LOAD OF CHICKEN COOPS

James Weber, the Poultry Man,
Receives Bad Bruises in Fall
From Wagon Yesterday.

James Weber of 326 West Court street was severely bruised yesterday afternoon about 4:30 o'clock, when he fell from a wagon piled high with chicken coops. The accident took place in front of the Penny and Company store on West State street. Mr. Weber is connected with the poultry department of the Morgan County Fair and was taking the load of coops to the fair grounds.

He was sitting on one of the coops and was about thirteen feet above the street. He started to change his position and the box slipped over the edge, casting Mr. Weber on his face in the street. He was stunned, and bystanders nearby, thinking that he was seriously hurt, rushed him to Our Savior's hospital.

Dr. F. A. Norris was summoned and it was found that bruises on the face and a bad shaking up were the extent of the injuries. Mr. Weber was well enough to go home last evening.

AUTO ACCIDENT CASE IMPROVES

Clayton Neal of White Hall, who was hurt in an auto accident a short time back, is now recovering as well as could be expected. He is still quite ill but has high spirits and hopes to be out again before very long. His wife, and brother, D. K. Neal have returned to White Hall after visiting Mr. Neal at Our Savior's hospital.

Mrs. Mary Fuller is here visiting her sister, Mrs. Ella Duffy. Mrs. Fuller is affiliated with the state board of health.

ENGLISH MORALS ARE AT LOW EBB

President of Wesleyan Conference Makes Statement in Address—At Same Time Similar Statement Made in America.

By Associated Press.
London, Aug. 26.—The Rev. Joan E. Wakerley, the new president of the Wesleyan Conference, denounced the immorality existing today in English society both high and low, in his presidential address.

On the same day that his utterances were published here, there appeared a dispatch from New York in which the prevalence of vice and morality in America was denounced by the National Council of the Protestant Episcopal church.

American readers may be interested in learning that according to Dr. Wakerley, English morals are apparently quite as bad as American morals.

"Human life by many is held very cheaply," was his indictment. "There is scarce a day when you do not open your paper upon some sordid story of the slaughter of some innocent."

"The morals between the sexes in many places is very low. The sacredness of the marriage relationship is openly scoffed at; just tramples truth, integrity, and domestic happiness beneath its feet."

"You have increased the number of your judges in the courts which deal with domestic tragedy because of the number of people who have sought relief in that direction. When you have done that, you have only touched the fringe of the evil."

"Your cities have no monopoly of vice. Get rid of the impression that because your villages are picturesque places they are therefore homes of deep spirituality. Alas; it is not so."

"You have frequently in what you think your fair village life a low moral sense, which is indicated by an unworthy estimate of womanhood."

"We have been reminded in the last few weeks that materialism is treacherous in philosophy in the natural sciences, and in practical life, and that the only alternatives are a continuance of the present chaos till it ends in a crash, or a return to a spiritual view of the universe."

WILL OBSERVE 50TH ANNIVERSARY

Moline, Ill.—(By the A. P.)—The golden anniversary of the city of Moline occurs Aug. 29, when the city will be 50 years old. A movement for a municipal celebration has been started by Mayor C. P. Skinner and City Clerk J. P. Efflandt.

The official seal gives August 29, 1872 as the birthday of Moline as an incorporated city. Prior to that time it had been under a village charter, which dated back to 1843.

Moline was one of the first cities to take advantage of the general law for the incorporation of cities which became effective July 1, 1872. Daniel C. Wheelock was the first mayor of the city.

HEAVY LOADINGS ON THE BURLINGTON

During the week ending August 5, the Burlington railroad loaded on its system 6,541 cars of grain and grain products. This was more grain than was loaded by any other railroad in the United States during the same period, according to C. E. Spens, Vice President in charge of traffic.

Power Flashed Thru Space Will Run World, Says Tesla

Power originating miles away will annihilate armies.

Nikola Tesla and Some of the Marvels He Says Wireless Transmission of Power Will Make Possible

By EDWARD M. THIERRY
NEW YORK, Aug. 27.—Wireless transmission of power will be the next astounding and revolutionary development of science! This is the promise of Nikola Tesla, famous electrical engineer and inventor—a promise he says will be carried into reality within two or three years.

"It is not a mere vision," said Tesla, in an authorized interview with NEA Service. "I have perfected this system in all its details and can transmit power to any terrestrial distance—say 12,000 miles—with a loss not exceeding five per cent."

"Very soon much power will be available everywhere for purposes of peace as well as war."

"We shall heat and light homes and operate our factories by means of power generated from falling water and cheap fuel directly at the source of supply and flashed to us thru space."

Trains Without Fuel.

"Airplanes and trains and ships will carry no fuel but will run by the transmitted energy. In war power generated thousands of miles away will be applied with destructive effect of such intensity as to compel a quick cessation of hostilities."

Tesla sees in hydro-electric development the greatest possibilities but not to the elimination of coal and oil.

"We shall have to depend first of all," he says, "on the energy of fuel and next on that of falling water. We are bound to open up new sources of power, for we have daily evidence that energy is throbbing thru space at an immense rate and it is merely a question of discovering means for capturing it."

"But no development of this kind will be as important to the world and conducive to peaceful progress of humanity as wireless transmission of power."

"What the world needs most of at this time is the abolishment of barriers that separate nations and the harmonizing of interests. The wireless art is the most effective means to this end."

Atomic Energy Illusion.
Atomic energy is not regarded by Tesla as offering great prospects.

SENATOR HARRISON EULOGIZES LINCOLN

Speaks at Freeport on Occasion of 60th Anniversary of Lincoln-Douglas Debate—Says People Are Getting Away from Faith of the Fathers.

Freeport, Ill., Aug. 26.—By the Associated Press.—Rebaptism in the faith of our fathers and reinforcement of the principles upon which this government was declared to be the need of the country today by Senator Byron Patton Harrison of Mississippi, speaking here today at the sixty-fourth anniversary of the Lincoln-Douglas debate.

"There should be carried on in every hamlet in this broad land a plan of education, not only by the parents around the hearthstone but in the public schools, informing all ages of those teachings upon which this great dual form of government was founded," he said, "and thru an adherence to which it has progressed by leaps and bounds to its present commanding and dominant position among all nations of the world. There is in this day and time too little of the faith of the fathers and too slight understanding of the theories which they sought to bequeath to posterity."

"No two political gladiators ever fought over such a momentous question and with more settled convictions of the correctness of their respective positions than Lincoln and Douglas. No two men ever measured up in higher degree and drew such crowds. The people came from every section and other states and what was said was heralded by the press thruout the country and accepted as a lead for others to follow."

"The arena was Illinois; the amphitheater was the whole country. Mr. Douglas was then the foremost figure in public life, the towering personality, the most commanding figure in America. He was 'the little giant of the West'—so known, so heralded, and so crowned, Abraham Lincoln at that time was little known and his prominence in that debate grew out of the fact that he was Douglas' opponent."

"Stephen A. Douglas was a man of striking personality—short in stature, with a lion-like head and deep, penetrating and attractive voice. His manner of speech was captivating, his power of expression seductive and his grasp of public questions at that time unequalled by anyone. He could move audiences to tears or cheers with the same ease that he could steal away their thoughts. He could play upon their racial sensitivities, their partisan prejudices, with the same success that he could arouse their patriotic impulses."

"Mr. Lincoln at that time was not so fortunately circumstanced. He had never held the senate in the grip of his logic or swayed them with the power of his eloquence, and therefore he could not draw crowds as one to whom great reputation allures. However, his keen intellect, his constant poise, his majestic simplicity, his power of close analysis and the natural results of an appeal for duty and sincerity made in behalf of humanity soon ingratiated him into the hearts of his fellow Americans and drew from his antagonist that degree of respect that always is accorded to one exceptionally endowed."

"In 1858 Lincoln was known thruout this country only as the man who engaged in joint debates with Stephen A. Douglas. Today Douglas is known as the man who engaged in joint debates with Abraham Lincoln."

"I am sure it would be as beautiful to Lincoln as it would be as inspiring to Douglas if they could return here today and see that this country, once so torn in fratricidal strife, bleeding at every pore and clashing with every resource, now reunited and bound together by ties of mutual affection, brotherly love, and common interest, that has been cemented by the blood of the sons of both North and South and sealed with the treasure of the sentiments and aspirations of a common people."

U. S. DEPARTMENT OF AGRICULTURE TRYING TO BREED SUPER COW

Claim That They Have Produced Cow That Will Give Enough Milk to Feed Thirty
Children—This is Said to be Six Times the Capacity of the Ordinary Dairy Cow

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26.—Breeding a dairy cow that will give enough milk to feed 30 children a day, six times the capacity of the ordinary cow, is one of the feats of the industry which has been accomplished by the U. S. Department of Agriculture, and which can be done by proper feeding and selective breeding. On its experimental farm near Beltsville, Md., the department has a herd of six cows, the result of breeding work, that have produced an average of more than 22,000 pounds of milk in 365 days. This little herd yields enough milk to provide a quart a day to 170 children.

An ordinary cow or scrub produces only enough milk to feed 5 children a quart a day, while a good cow yields enough to give 20 children a quart a day. The super-cow, as the department calls her, and there are more and more of them in this class every year, gives enough milk so that a small herd might easily supply this quantity to all the small children in a small town.

The improvement of the dairy cows means more than increased profits to the dairyman, the department declares. It means cheaper and more milk, the best bone and muscle maker for children. Good breeding and good feeding have made the difference. What this means is brought out forcibly in a poster prepared by the department which is available to all those interested in the subject.

In the same connection, the department shows that culling the poultry flock to get rid of all birds except the vigorous, prolific layers, results in noticeable improvement in the progeny, as well as in an increase of eggs.

Recent experiments with the poultry at the Beltsville, farm showed that the late moulters selected from a flock of 100 Rhode Island Reds in the fall of 1920 laid seven more eggs per bird during their second year than the original flock of pullets. They were used as breeders the following spring and the first red pullets to commence laying in the fall of 1921 were found to be the offspring of these late-moulting hens. Their pullets in a period of seven months have already averaged about two dozen eggs per bird more than the original flock.

It is not alone in number of eggs that the late moulters' progeny excel. The department report continues, but also in the value of the product, as the distribution was more even, a much larger proportion of the eggs being laid during the winter months. In the last seven months the daughters of the late-moulters not only averaged two dozen eggs per bird more than the original flock, but the value of their product was, figuring at the same prices about $1.04 per bird more during the same period. It is expected that this margin will increase.

RETURNS FROM CHICAGO

Supt. H. Ambrose Perrin of the local public schools and family returned Saturday from Chicago where Mr. Perrin has been attending the summer quarter of University of Chicago. Mr. Perrin has qualified for an advanced degree and lacks but a few credits of qualifying for the doctors. He has been doing special work in method of instruction by the direct teaching plan and also making a study of the anatomical, the mental and qualitative and quantitative aspects of the development of children.

He will be in his office mornings from 9 to 11:30 to attend to business pursuant to the opening of schools, Sept. 11.

Builders of Local High School Are Lowest Bidders for Big U. of I. Stadium.

The builders of Jacksonville High school, English Brothers of Champaign, are the lowest bidders for the general construction work on the proposed Memorial Stadium at the University of Illinois. Although the bid was not made public it is understood that it was a little over $1,500,000.

As many Jacksonville people are acquainted with the members of the big contracting firm this announcement will prove of special interest.

According to Col. H. B. Hackett of Holabird and Roach, it is likely that the contract will be let some time next week.

Colonel Hackett said: "If the contracts are let next week, we can expect to begin work on the construction of the stadium almost immediately. The job should be completed within a year and before the opening of the 1923 football season."

"LAST OF TRAPPERS" TURNS COYOTES INTO FORTUNE

ARTHUR OLIVER IN HIS "STORE."

By Gene Cohn

San Francisco—The "coyote" man, they call him, and for him the old trapper days have never passed.

He has made time and conditions stand still, refusing to bow to modern trade methods; getting his pelts and bartering them as in the days of the old West.

Yet Arthur Oliver makes a financial success of it.

Each summer finds Oliver setting up as strange a store as may be found in this nation. It is a sidewalk rack on which his winter's catch of furs and sells to passers-by as the old Hudson Bay trappers traded.

He ignores the great fur stores and buyers. Dozens of people await his "opening," which has no fixed time and is dependent on when he has caught his stock.

Besides, Oliver is retained by the zoology department of the University of California to trap rare and almost extinct animals; he is licensed by the government to trap otter; he conducts rabbit drives for farmers and does all sorts of "odd animal jobs," such as killing mountain lions and coyotes for cattle men.

"It's been a pretty profitable business," he admits. "But I've never figured the profit end very closely. I like to think that someone is carrying on a bit of the old trapper tradition; I guess."

Oliver has won the reputation of being the West's greatest hunter and trapper of wild game.

M. E. CONFERENCE BEGINS SEPT. 5TH

Ministers Meet This Year in Decatur—Bishop Nicholson to Preside.

The general program for the Illinois M. E. Conference will be held in Decatur the week beginning Sept. 5th. All Methodist ministers of this county will attend.

Efforts are being made to secure Governor W. P. Harding, of Iowa, as speaker for the Thursday evening session, the only evening that an admission fee will be charged. The fee is to be fifty cents and it will go to defray the conference expense.

Reading of appointments for the year will come in the last session of the conference, Monday afternoon, September 11, at 1:30 o'clock. Approximately one third of the ministers are to be moved to other charges each year and it is said that the proportion will not be increased this year. This portion of the conference is awaited with suspense by everyone.

Addresses by well known speakers are on the program for the week. Among those on the program are Dr. Charles R. Oaten, chairman of the board of conference claimants; Dr. W. H. Neil of the evangelistic department and chairman of the committee on conservation and advance, and Bishop Theodore Henderson, resident bishop of the Detroit district.

The seventh annual reunion of the Lewis and Watt families of this part of the state will be held this afternoon at Nichols park. It is expected that over seventy-five members of both families will be present.
Mr. and Mrs. Herman Shumaker of out of the city originated the idea of the Lewis-Watt reunion and every one since has been in honor of Mrs. Shumaker's mother, Mrs. Amanda Watt, who is a member of both families, her maiden name being Lewis.
A fine big picnic luncheon has been planned for noon and the members of the various families will spend the remainder of the day in an enjoyable time.
Though most of these people come from this county, some will be there from other places. Miss Della Wolfe of Pasadena, California, is visiting here to attend the affair.
Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Houghton and Mr. and Mrs. Guy Houghton from Patterson Greene county, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Selley of Roodhouse are expected. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lewis and family of New Berlin, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Lewis of Springfield, Mr. and Mrs. C. Lewis and family from Bluffs, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Ray, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ray and Mr. and Mrs. F. T. Watt and daughter from Ashland are coming, as are Mrs. Ed Eddick of Tallula, and a group of Winchester people, Mr. and Mrs. William S. Frost and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Gibbs, Mr. and Mrs. Warren Watt and family and Mr. and Mrs. William Wells; Charles Wyatt of Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stice and Mr. and Mrs. John Strawn and family of Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Dunkel of Pleasant Plains, Mr. and Mrs. C. J. Ryan of Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Watt and family of Franklin, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Shumaker and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Emory Carter, Mr. and Mrs. M. L. Watt and son, Mrs. Amanda Watt, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Watt and son, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Switzer and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mortheole, Mrs. Lindsey, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Craig and family, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Lewis, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Graff, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Carter and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Smith and daughter, Miss Laura Smith, from Jacksonville and this vicinity will also be there.

AN APPRECIATION OF WILLIAM A. CALDWELL

C. R. Wood Pays Tribute to Man Who Was Well Known
Here — Wife Was Formerly
Miss Johanna DeLeuw of this City.

A few weeks ago news came over the Associated Press wire of the death of William A. Caldwell which occurred at Lake George. Death came suddenly and physicians gave the cause as athletic heart. Mr. Caldwell was famous as an athlete while at Cornell university, being named as all American guard and also was a member of the crew.

Mr. Caldwell was well known in Jacksonville where he spent some months about twenty years ago. At that time he was director of the State School for the Deaf and turned out one of the greatest football teams in the history of the institution. He later went to St. Louis where he coached the football team at Marion Sims medical school. Later he took up newspaper work which he was engaged in at the time of death. Mrs. Caldwell was Miss Johanna DeLeuw of this city, a daughter of the late O. A. DeLeuw one of Jacksonville's well known attorneys.

The following was written by C. R. Wood a co-worker of Mr. Caldwell and published in the Associated Press service Bulletin:

Romanticist, philosopher, full of an insatiable curiosity, he has gone on to see what lies beyond the grave.

Out along the wires, he was known as "W. A. C.—General Early Morning Editor." But to those of us who had met him, even once, he was just plain Bill—a rollicking, irrepressible, big-hearted fellow, with whom you simply couldn't be formal. Even the minister, summoned from Titusville, Pa., where Bill had lived before he came to New York, couldn't find it in his heart to call him nothing but "Bill" when he came to conduct the final services at the Caldwell home in Hasbrouck Heights, N. J., on the evening of July 24.

Back of the half-fellow-well-met atmosphere that he radiated, though there was much more. He was an indefatigable student—his brain a literal gold mine of information. No one ever thought of going to a reference book when Bill was around. His facts were always accurate, and they were told with a wealth of human-interest detail that only the widest and keenest of reading could have assembled.

He was interested in everything under the sun—history, science, literature, sports, and above all else, people.

Man of Many Parts

He was full of pathos, and full of humor. He could grip you with a tear story; console you

Hint to Flappers

By NEA Service.
KINGSVILLE, O., Aug. 27.—
Flappers, abandon cigarettes! Leave the nasty things alone—

And—
Smoke a pipe!
That's the advice of Mrs. Mary Griffin, spoken from the wisdom of her 99 years.

You can't call Mrs. Griffin a reformer. She doesn't pretend to be an authority on cigarettes. In fact she's never smoked one. But when she lights up her old baseburne corncob, packed with Hod Carrie's Revenge, even the stars come out and blink.

"Seventy-nine years ago," says Mrs. Griffin—they call her "Gran'ma" at the county infirmary where she lives—"the doctor said smoking would cure my cough. I've been curing it ever since.

"When the flappers quit smoking cigarettes and take to the pipes" says she, "they'll tame down and cut out their mad capers. They'll be a lot happier, too. A pipe is such a comfort."

Mrs. Griffin's fuel consumption is about two packages a week.

with a funny one. He never lacked an audience.

Those of us who worked thru the "low" hours with Bill on the early probably will remember him the most vividly. His big, booming voice, his ever ready wit, his infectious, laughing geniality, meant a lot to us.

Bill started off on his vacation July 15. A week later, July 22, the news came from Lake George, N. Y., that he was dead. He had started off alone, canoeing, that morning. About 10:30 he met another canoeist and roared a salutation as he passed.

"Fine," he answered when the other asked how he felt.

Fifteen minutes later, the canoeist looked back and saw Bill's canoe floating bottom side up. The body was recovered almost immediately. But physicians who worked over it said Bill had died of heart disease before he struck the water. "Athletic heart," it was the result of his strenuous career as crew men and football star at Cornell University.

Caldwell came to The Associated Press in November 1917, after nearly seventeen years of newspaper work on the Philadelphia Times, St. Louis Post-Dispatch, Butler, Pa., Eagle, Meadville, Pa., Star, Titusville Morning Herald. He had been managing editor of the Morning Herald for six years.

After he had served about six months as night editor on the Pennsylvania wire, he was transferred to the early morning service as cable editor where he served thru the latter years of the world war.

He was appointed General Early Morning Editor, Nov. 6, 1921, and held that post until he died. He is survived by his widow and five children.

A ten-year-old finds a Gulbransen as tempting as you do—and just as easy to play.

Sure as shooting, you'll discover that inquisitive, that eager-to-learn boy of yours playing Gulbransen Instruction Rolls—and unconsciously gaining an understanding and mastery of music that he'll appreciate all his life.

You'll find him picking out melody notes, vary the tempo, pedalling properly—like an old hand at the game!

It is a game—a fascinating one the rules of which are set forth in the exclusive Instruction Rolls.

You cannot play the game on any other player-piano because the Gulbransen does things that are out of the ordinary. It pedals more easily, responds more completely, gives more direct control and affords a greater variety of expression than do ordinary player-pianos.

Put it to the test.

Northminster Presbyterian church—Walter E. Spoons, minister. Preaching by the pastor at 10:45 a. m. The subject will be "The Ideal Christian." This is an interesting subject and will take up the idea that education alone does not make a Christian, as we have heard lately. The church has not lost the colleges and universities, but the schools have lost the church because of what they are teaching, in not teaching the Bible as the Divine Word of God. Sunday school at 9:30 a. m. William Bieber, superintendent. There will be no evening service at the church on account of the union meeting at the Grace church lawn. Thanks to all who helped to make the Inevitable social a success last Thursday evening. Remember that our Rally Day will be some time the last of next month. There will be no prayer meeting Wednesday night.

Mount Emory Baptist church, corner of South Church and Marion streets—W. Henry Snowden, minister. Services Sunday at 11 a. m. Subject, "Be Honest With All." At 3 p. m. Rev. ## NOTED SINGER

VISITS HERE

Harry Yazella Mercer was a visitor in the city Friday the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Hackett Wilder. Mr. Mercer is a friend of the Wilder's and has for some time been head of the Mercer Concert company of Chicago.

The Mercer Concert company appeared on the chautauqua program at Winchester Thursday and Mr. and Mrs. Wilder accompanied by Mrs. Abe Wiehl went to Winchester and brought Mr. Mercer to Jacksonville where he was entertained at the Wilder home.

Mr. Mercer left for Litchfield where he appeared Friday evening.

Mr. Mercer is a noted tenor and has done considerable concert work.

Six Cylinders—Four Doors—$1465

Take a look at the Jewett Sedan in the illustration. Have you ever seen smarter lines—more distinctive appearance?

Then remember that it has an all metal body with four doors and the best of coach work. That means no embarrassing rattles or squeaks.

Inside you will find soft, inviting upholstery—broad seats—all those appointments that spell comfort and pride of ownership.

Up under the hood is a fifty horse power, six cylinder motor offering vast reserve power and the smoothest of riding qualities.

Under the body is a superb chassis—as strong as fine engineering can make it—designed and endorsed by the Paige-Detroit Motor Car Company.

Could you ask for anything more in appearance, comfort, power and dependability. Then try to realize that all this can be yours for $1465 f. o. b. Detroit.

INDUSTRIAL SHARES REGISTERED GAINS

By Associated Press.
NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—Conspicuous strength of public utilities and industrial shares several of which registered, a sensational gain featured today's relatively dull half holiday session of the stock market. Consolidated Gas was pushed up in remarkable fashion in the last hour, showing a net gain of nine points at one time but reacting slightly at the close. American Tobacco broke thru for a new high on a net gain of nearly 3 points.

St. Louis was subjected to fairly heavy selling pressure in the early dealings but they recovered later, generally closing with small fractional declines. Possible seizure by the government of railroads unable to provide adequate

RAILROAD AND COAL STRIKES WILL ULTIMATELY BE AVOIDED

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., Aug. 26.—People are not so much interested in the temporary settlement of the coal strike and the railroad strike as in developing plans so that they will not periodically re-occur. It is not enough to know that we shall have coal this winter or that railway traffic is not now suspended. If the people of this country are to be healthy, happy and prosperous, we must know that some plan is being evolved to prevent these strikes re-occurring in view of these facts, Roger W. Babson was this week asked to make a forecast as to future labor developments. His diagnosis of the strike situation follows:

"When in Washington during the war, assisting the Secretary of Labor, it was evident that the students of labor problems were divided into two distinct groups; one group believes in compulsory arbitration as illustrated by the Kansas Industrial Court, and the other group stands purely for conciliation without any compulsion. Conservatives and radicals can be found in both groups. Investigation leads me to believe that there is a field for both of these lines of work. Labor disputes in connection with general industry, such as the textile industry, the boot and shoe industry, and possibly the steel industry, should be kept on a conciliation basis. It surely would be a mistake to attempt compulsory arbitration in connection with these businesses which are operated solely for profit. The best means of avoiding trouble in these industries is by keeping these industries in two major labor groups, one group to be strictly "union" and the other group strictly "non-union." Let the union group adopt the closed shop and let the other group be strictly non-union. Then let the two groups compete. I do not mean necessarily in production, but rather see under which system the public, the employees and the stockholders, all combined, are most prosperous. My own guess is that none of these three parties would long be healthy, happy and prosperous with all "union" or with all "non-union." When one group secures control, it becomes inefficient, careless and arrogant. My guess is that an industry would be most prosperous and all concerned in it would be rendering the most service and be the happiest if the industry were equally divided into a union and a non-union field. So much for general industry. When disputes arise, only conciliation should be applied by a third party. There should be no compulsory settlements in such cases.

"When, however, we come to transportation, fuel, public utilities such as water, light and gas, or to the distribution of milk, bread, etc., we find a group of industries to which compulsory arbitration must be applied. The first two groups to which such strong arm methods will be applied are the railroads and coal mines. First let me say that the railroads and the mine operators are themselves largely to blame for present troubles. Altho the owners of these properties are now behaving themselves, they have not always done so. Most of the unwise methods that labor leaders are using today were applied by the railroads and mine operators of twenty years ago. Hence these corporations now are only reaping what they have sown. Nevertheless, two wrongs do not make a right. Our nation must have transportation and fuel at a fair rate and the operation of its railroad and coal properties must be undisturbed by either labor leaders or stock market operators.

Regarding the railroad situation: to secure a fair rate the Interstate Commerce Commission has been organized and to secure undisturbed transportation the Railroad Labor Board has been created. The first of these—that is, the Interstate Commerce Commission—is functioning very well and the struggle is now over the Railroad Labor Board."

At this point Mr. Babson was told of a strong feeling on the part of both the railroad management and the employees that the Railroad Board was not properly made up. Concerning this, Mr. Babson stated:

"Experience has shown that boards consisting of three groups (one group representing capital, one group representing labor, and one group representing the public) do not function well. The group representing capital vote in one body for the corporations; group representing labor vote in one body for the wage workers; this leaves the decision to the three men who represent the public. The problems involved are too great to permit leaving the decision to three men chosen more or less for political reasons. To have the Railroad Labor Board or any such board properly function, five, seven or nine men should be selected who represent neither the corporations nor the wage workers, but who represent the nation. These men should be paid large salaries, given dignified positions, appointed either for life or for long terms, and treated like the Supreme Court of the United States. These men should gradually build up a code based upon the rulings, seeking the advantage of no one group but rather the welfare of the nation as a whole, which in the end would be for the best interests of both the owners and the wage workers. The decisions of this board as applying to transportation, public utilities and similar conflicts, should be absolute and final.

"Railroad owners are now willing to accept compulsory arbitration, but the labor leaders are not. Some claim the labor leaders are afraid of losing their jobs, but I do not believe this to be the reason. They appear to be honest in their belief that enforcing men to work for profit is only a form of slavery. Forcing a man to work in a steel plant which is operated for profit may be a form of slavery. If compulsory arbitration applied to all industry, we certainly would be reverting to slavery. When, however, it is applied only to transportation, public utilities, coal mining and one or two other industries, thus leaving the great field open, compulsory arbitration cannot be called slavery. I say this because under such conditions any man who did not wish to work for the railroads, the public utilities or the coal operators would be free to go into competitive industry to which compulsory arbitration would not apply. The labor leaders state they are willing to accept compulsory arbitration—as best exemplified by the Kansas Industrial Court—provided the railroads, public utilities, coal mines, etc., are operated by the Government, not for profit. They illustrate their case by stating that is the reason they are willing to be drafted for the army because the army is operated by the Government, and not by individuals for profit, and that this is why being drafted for the army is not a form of slavery.

"This may be all right in theory," continued Mr. Babson, "but the public is in no mood at present for further Government operation. The results of the war, in connection with the operation of the railroads, the building and operating of ships and the various other interests in which the Government took a hand, show that under present conditions Government operation is expensive, inefficient and unsatisfactory.

The public believes today that better organization, better discipline and lower costs come through private operation. The public further believes that private operation should continue so long as the present employees of the railroads, public utilities and coal operators are not compelled to work for the owners of these properties but are free to leave them and work for other people, and so long as there are plenty of others available and willing to work on the railroads, public utilities and coal mines under a system of compulsory arbitration.

"In view of these facts it seems to me that the public will not at present take seriously the claim of the labor leaders that compulsory arbitration applied even to industries operated for profit is necessarily slavery. If it were to apply to all industries or if there were not a group of men perfectly willing to work on the railroads, public utilities and coal mines under a system of compulsory arbitration, then there might be some justice in the slavery argument. Today, however, railroad men are perfectly free to go into other lines of activity for which no compulsory arbitration is suggested, while hundreds of thousands of men are willing to work for the railroads, public utilities and even the coal operators under a compulsory arbitration system. How will such a compulsory system be put in operation in connection with the railroads, public utilities and mines? Possibly the people will be so irritated that Congress will with one swoop apply the Kansas Industrial Court idea to the railroads, public utilities and mines. I hope, however, this will not be done. The need of the hour is to have workers feel right. We shall never have efficiency and a reduction in the cost of living until those engaged in industry feel right toward their work. People never feel right when forced to do anything against their better judgment. Hence my forecast is as follows:

"The Railroad Labor Board's ruling will not now be made compulsory as to the present employees, but they will be compulsory on every employee who goes to work for the railroads after a certain date. Those employees who are now at work for the railroads came on a free, competitive basis and have done faithful work. Altho theoretically they can change to some other job, yet practically they cannot. They know the railroad business and this is all they know, and it isn't fair to say they can quit at their present time of life and enter a new field of work. Therefore I say that unless these present employees will voluntarily come under the compulsory arbitration system they should be free to continue as at present. But every additional man hired will be hired with the distinct understanding that he will conform to the decisions of the Railroad Labor Board, as must the stockholders of such corporations. This would be perfectly fair and would bring about a result which would be gracefully accepted by all in the course of time. Under this system it would take a few years to bring about the desired result, but we would rapidly approach it from year to year, and when adopted it would have the full co-operation of all concerned. This is my forecast of the way that the problem will ultimately be worked out. Then there will be no more strikes on our railroads, nor in connection with the public utilities, mines, etc., when the same method is extended to include them also.

"The Babson chart continues to reflect existing conditions with remarkable accuracy. It now stands at 8% below normal. Were it not for the strike situation of the past few weeks it would be much higher. Nevertheless, the tide has turned for the better and business will be better this fall than last, in spite of the strikes."
